

■ The Inclusive Community Statement and Action Guidelines

In September 2010, Kwansei Gakuin came out with the "Building an Inclusive Community" statement (revised in March 2014) which celebrates diversity as a strength of community and aspires to be "a community without borders." It states that all members of the community – students, pupils, kindergarteners, faculty, staff, alumni, and their families – have differences, not only according to sex and age, but also according to nationality, race, ethnicity, place of origin, primary language, religion, physical or mental characteristics, and sexual orientation. These differences need to be respected. The statement is an intentional commitment to create an environment where each individual member can manifest their inner strengths.

On the basis of this statement and in order to turn the campus into such an inclusive community, the university formulated the Basic Policy and Action Guidelines for the Realization of an Inclusive Community in April 2020.

■ LGBT is next to you

"Coming out" is the word used when one tells another person their own sexual orientation (your preference of sexual partner) and sexual identity (the way you define your own sexuality). Has anybody ever come out to you before? They say that 8.9% of the population identify themselves as sexual minorities. That means that there are 1800 students at Kwansei Gakuin who would identify themselves this way (according to the 2018 Dentsu Survey). That means one out of every eleven people in your class or club activity would identify themselves as a sexual minority.

You might claim that you have never met such a person, but the reality might be that you have in fact already met that person without knowing it. It is not an issue so far from home. There are many things that we can do to allow each person the freedom to live and be the person that they really are.

TIPS
